

Croatia

Geographical location

- Croatia officially the Republic of Croatia is a unitary democratic parliamentary republic in Europe at the crossroads of Central Europe, the Balkans, and the Mediterranean. Its capital and largest city is Zagreb. Croatia covers 6,594 square kilometres and has diverse, mostly continental and Mediterranean climates.

Coast and population

- Croatia's Adriatic Sea coast contains more than a thousand islands. The country's population is 4.29 million, most of whom are Croats.

Future

- Croatia is a member of the United Nations. Croatia is an acceding state of the European Union, with full membership expected in July 2013.

Plitvice

- Plitvice Lakes are the most famous National Park in Croatia, a major tourist destination and its main source of income, together with arable lands, grazing lands and woods it was entered in the UNESCO world heritage list in 1979.

Sjeverni Velebit

- Sjeverni Velebit is a national park in Croatia that covers 109 km<sup>2</sup> of the northern section of the Velebit mountain, the largest mountain in Croatia. Because of the abundant variety of this part of the Velebit range and its authenticity, the area was upgraded from its classification as a nature reserve to a national park in 1999.

The Pula Arena

- The Pula Arena is the name of the amphitheatre located in Pula. The Arena is the only remaining Roman amphitheatre to have four side towers and with all three Roman architectural orders entirely preserved. It was constructed in 27 BC - 68 AD and is among the six largest surviving Roman arenas in the World. A rare example among the 200 Roman surviving amphitheatres, it is also the best preserved ancient monument in Croatia.

The Euphrasian basilica

- The Euphrasian is a basilica in Poreč, Croatia. The Euphrasian basilica has for the most part retained its original shape. Since it is the third church to be built on the same site, it conceals previous buildings. Because of its exceptional value, it has been inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List since 1997.

Zagreb

- Zagreb is the Croatian capital and largest city by population. Historically, Zagreb has grown from two villages in the neighboring hills, Gradec and Capitol.
- Zagreb is an administrative, economic, cultural, and scientific center of Croatia.

CROATIAN NATIONAL THEATRE

THESE ARE SOME OF THE
MOST IMPORTANT INSTITUTION
IN CROATIA

CROATIAN PARLIAMENT

Osijek

SUSPENSION FOOTBRIDGE IS A BRIDGE OVER THE DRAVA RIVER IN OSIJEK. THIS IS ONE OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL SYMBOLS OF THE CITY.

Split

SPLIT IS THE LARGEST COASTAL CITY IN CROATIA

Zadar

Đakovo

SAINT PETER'S CATHEDRAL IN ĐAKOVO

Thank you for watching !!

- Theme song: Adastra –
Zašto se skrivaš

- Made by: Ivan Ivaković
Dario Raić
Mislav Fajdetić